

Nomination for the NSATA Hall of Fame

The highest honor a member of the NSATA can receive is induction into the NSATA Hall of Fame. The NSATA invites eligible and deserving athletic trainers as well as persons from other health professions, business, education, etc., to make application for this prestigious honor and be recognized for their contributions to the profession of athletic training.

Any worthy individual, regardless of race, creed, sex, physical disability, or posthumously based on their contribution to not only the NSATA, but to the profession of athletic training may be nominated by any voting member affiliated with the NSATA, MAATA, and/or NATA. Upon completion, this nomination form should be sent to the Hall of Fame Committee Chair where it will be reviewed in addition to the letters and application to verify that the nominee meets all criteria requirements.
